Published by the Students of
Kane Area Joint High School
Kane, Pennsylvania

Alma Mater - -

On the heights of the Alleghenies
Stands a high school fair,
There, among great trees abiding—
Pine scent in the air.
There, all nature in its glory,
In summer green, in winter hoary—
Tells the season's wondrous story;
Hail to old Kane High.

True to the spirit of thy mountains,
Hail to old Kane High.
May we e'er aspire to service
For our own Kane High.
Drinking from thy fount of learning,
High ideals within us burning,
May our hearts express our yearning,
In service to Kane High.

To Red and Blue we'll e'er be loyal
Though the years roll by,
Thy Red shall ever stir our courage;
Be ours the victor's cry.
From azure skies our Blue was taken—
Sign of Loyalty unshaken,
Alma Mater ne'er forsaken;
Hail to old Kane High.

School Board

Most of the pages of our yearbook are devoted to the students of our high school, but how many of us ever take time out to think about a group of people known as the school board?

Kane's school board consists of thirty-two members elected from each of the seven districts included in our joint system.

The officers of the joint board are: Clyde Gilfert, President; Robert Fees, Vice President; Ralph DeCamp, Secretary; Gustav Olson, Treasurer.

Through the efforts of a similar group, a cafeteria was added to Kane High in 1946. The project of the present board is the completion of the plans for the new junior high school.

On July 1, 1956, the Union District System will go into effect. All the districts in the jointure will be included, except Wetmore Township, which will come in on a jointure agreement. Under this new system, the 1961 school board will have only seven members with each district electing one member and two members elected at large.

Some advantages of a union school district are: increased state appropriation, streamlining the administration of school business, economy of operation, and expansion of educational offerings at low cost.

Memory is the notebook of our lives. The outline is there even though we have to look elsewhere for the details. Among the reference books to fill in the outline of your school lives you will find invaluable this Yearbook of 1956. Little is told about classes and studies because that is not the purpose of the Hurri-Kane. It doesn't mean that the activities of school were more important than the subjects you took. It simply means that the record of school activities was here recorded.

There is something deeper and finer from school than the superficial memory of pleasant or vivid past events. The thoughtful and cultured speech, actions and attitudes of an educated person are a constant and living memory of what he has been taught. We hope that your years in the Kane Area Schools have left a favorable imprint on you of which we may all be proud.

Many times in the future you will look at this Hurri-Kane, and its pages will cause you to recall numerous experiences.

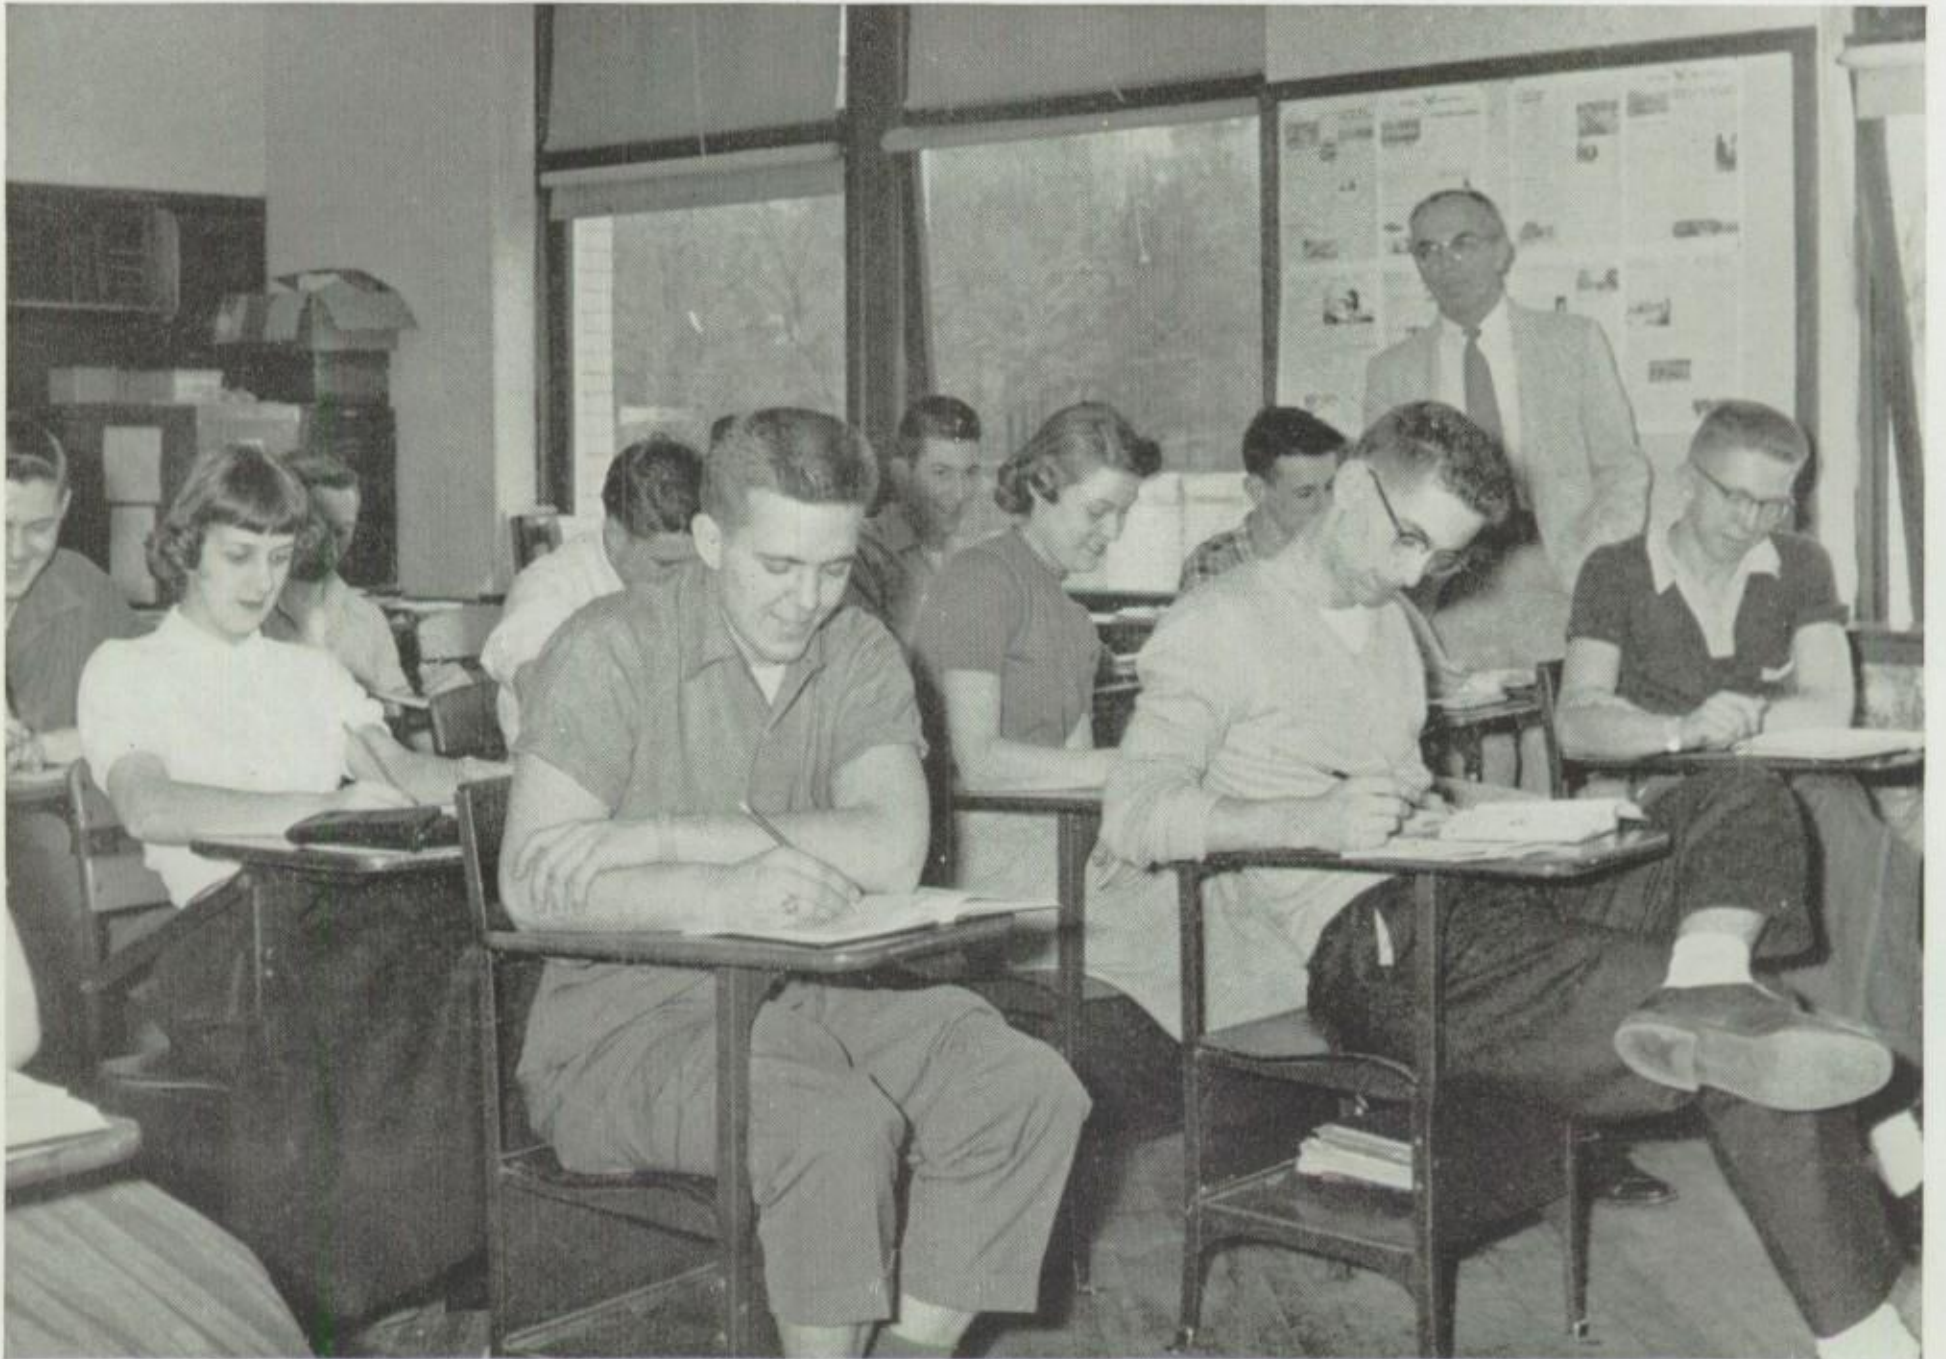

Memories are wonderful. They console you, humor you, inspire you, and give you direction.

As pleasant as it will be to recall those experiences, and as necessary as it will be that you remember those facts and ideas which you have learned in subject fields, I sincerely hope you will not forget that sometimes you have had to swallow a little pride in order to get along with your associates.

The ability to work with and for other people is one of the most precious assets a person can possess.

Remember also that the world needs and wants your very best at all times.

Senior Class

Do you remember all the things we, the Class of 1956, have done together as a group? In eighth and ninth grades we had class parties. Wildcat Park was the scene of our sophomore and junior class picnics. We all got wet at those picnics, but thoroughly enjoyed ourselves (and the hotdogs!)

Early in the spring of our junior year we started our projects to raise money for our long-awaited Washington trip. In March we presented "Seventeenth Summer," a dramatic play which centered around Angie, played by Toni Henretta, and Jack, portrayed by Mike Fragale. Who could ever forget the problems which Angie and her family faced that summer?

After the play had been presented, we started making pink apple blossoms for the Jr.-Sr. Prom. All our work proved worthwhile when the tree was brought in and the apple blossoms fixed on the branches.

Last fall as we started our senior year together, our feelings were mixed. Many of us were glad to see our final year approach but the rest of us were sad.

The magazine drive was the first big job we had to tackle. We coped with it very well however, and sold $4605 worth of magazines.

As soon as our magazine drive was over, we began work on our senior class play "Time Out for Ginger." We'll always remember how Ginger, portrayed by Jean Larson and Toni Henretta, decided she didn't want to be a rough and tough tomboy football player anymore.

February brought the candlelight National Honor Society assembly and eleven seniors were tapped for membership.

At last came our Washington trip on April 12-14! Those days just seemed to fly as we toured Washington.

Now as graduation approaches, we are planning to be together for the last time as a group, but we will never forget these wonderful times we have had together as the Class of 1956.

In Memoriam

ALDEN JOHNSON

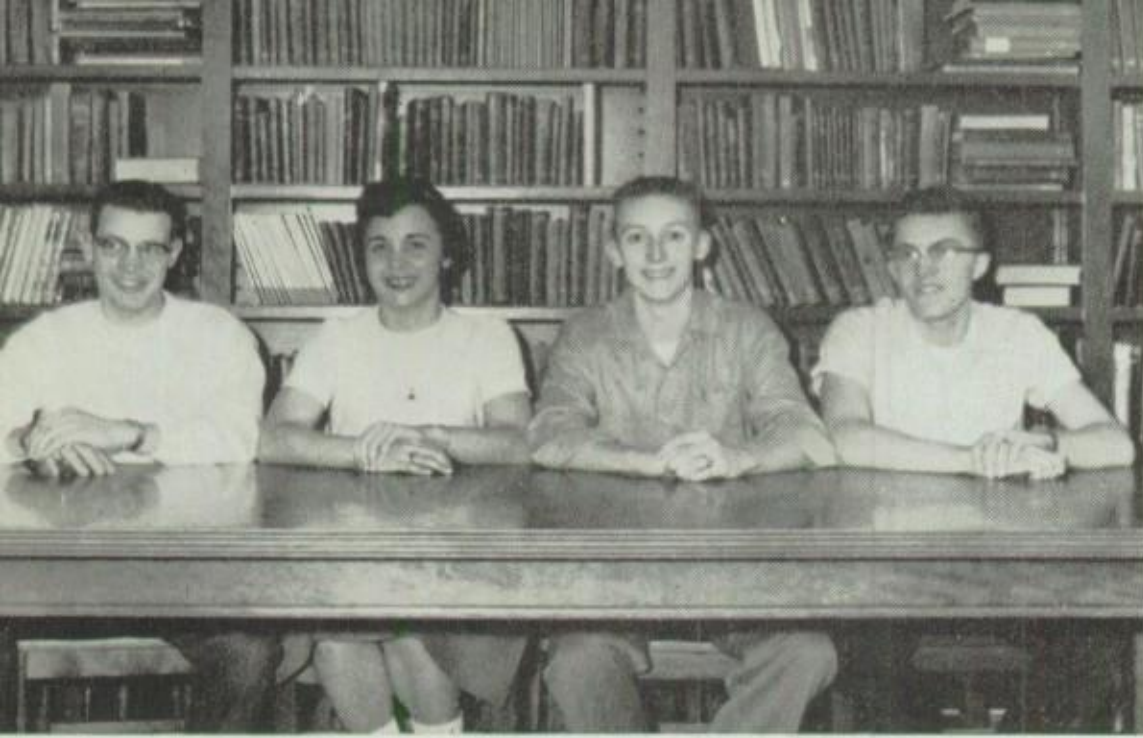

HE IS JUST AWAY

I cannot say, and I will not say,
That he is dead. He is just away!
With a cheery smile, and a wave of the hand,
He has wandered into an unknown land,

And left us dreaming how very fair
It needs must be, since he lingers there.
And you—O you, who the wildest yearn
For the old-time step and the glad return,—

Think of him faring on, as dear
In the love of There as love of Here;
Think of him still the same, I say:
He is not dead—he is just away!

Student Council at work

The student governing body of Kane High or Student Council by name met Tuesday in Room 8 with Jon Walter presiding.

Homerooms having over thirty-four students elected two representatives. Those with fewer elected one representative and senior homerooms elected two.

Early in the fall, Mike Swanson was elected vice president, Lynn Larson, secretary, and Dorie Johnson, treasurer. The president, Jon Walter, and Mike Swanson attended the summer workshop at Penn State. This program aided the various councils in their problems.

The cafeteria committee, with Joe DeMarte as chairman, planned all of the meals, and Dorie Johnson's service committee took charge of the various drives. The assembly committee under the guidance of Miss Belle Bollinger selected the professional assemblies for Four-Fold.

Through Student Council each member got an idea of how democracy works.

Phy Chy

The purpose of Phy Chy is to increase knowledge and arouse interest in chemistry and science in general.

The club, advised by Mr. Van Ormer, was fortunate in having a number of interesting and educational programs. Gary Smith started the year with an interesting talk on poisons and narcotics.

Other club members who gave interesting talks included Marcia Swanson, Janice Carlson, Marla Mehalko, Sandra Leafstrom, Ron Homan, Bob Donovan, John Cliff, and John Johnson.

Outside speakers were Mr. Michael Pohorillo, Mr. Vincent J. Marold, and Mr. Cooper.

The club took its annual field trip on May 2 to the Corning Glass Plant and Alfred University.

This year journalism was dropped from the curriculum, thus making changes necessary in the preparation of Hi-Life. Formerly journalism students covered and wrote the news; now this is done by a staff of volunteers who are interested in writing.

Several members of the staff attended two high school press conferences to exchange and get new ideas. The first was held in Ridgway in the fall for area high schools and the other at St. Bonaventure University in May, where sports editor Dick Oyler participated in a panel discussion.

Specials, such as the music and cafeteria editors were a feature this year along with columns concerning fashions and student opinion. Members of the staff also covered the school news for the Bradford Era's school page.

Miss Jan Mincer, new business education instructress, assisted Miss Rosana Eckman as adviser.

The Hurri-Kane—our yearbook. To many—yes, but to the twenty-five members of the Hurri-Kane staff it is more than just a yearbook. For these people have worked on it steadily from September to June contacting sponsors, drawing panels, cutting and mounting pictures composing write-ups, typing and proofreading.

The work was lessened this year since Jahn and Ollier, the engraving company, planned and made up the dummy.

Our sponsor campaign was also unusually successful and we were able to go over the top of previous years, through the ability of Carole Peterson, the very capable business manager, and all staff members, who hopefully canvassed the town and the surrounding areas.

Informal pictures were taken by Ron Nordstrom, and the group pictures were taken by Mr. Robert Carson.

Our editor, Mary Reigel, did a very capable job, giving assistance whenever she was needed.

Most of the work was done during vacations, Saturdays, after school and evenings, as we struggled to meet deadlines. The finished yearbooks were handed out at the end of school.

Senior Class Play

Once again the Class of '56 turned in a fine performance. The play which was the source of this success was "Time Out for Ginger".

Working under the guidance of Mr. Robert Smith, their director, and Brooke Branon, student director, the play was ready for presentation in four weeks.

If Ginger hadn't wanted to play football, the entire Carol household could have remained a happy one. However, with Ginger so insistent, she was shunned by her boyfriend and abhorred by her sisters.

Of course Papa Carol upheld his daughter by saying: "Everybody should be allowed to do just what he wants to do." The only real support Ginger had was from Lizzie the maid, who knew all the plays in football. Everything was fine when Gnger realized that she would rather be a girl with a boyfriend than a football player without a love.

"You'd make somebody a good housewife, yes, sir, a darn good housewife." Few will forget these memorable lines as Bob Howard, in the role of father, donned an apron and displayed his ability as a housewife.

After son, Doug, is chased home on his motorcycle by a policeman, daughter, Julie, shows resentment toward her mother.

The Butler household is in complete chaos when mother decides to move her office to the house.

Plagued with patients who have neurotic tendencies, a husband who is constantly pounding out new songs on the piano, and trash fires in the basement, mother decides to move back into her downtown office.

Finally father gets one of his songs published and sung by a current "pop" singer, and Doug and Julie try to see how to help their mixed up parents.

Marianne Turnquist, student director, and Miss Gloria Schmidt, director, were very helpful in producing the play.

The main objective of the Eighth Grade Junior Dramatics was to help the youngsters appreciate dramatics, to provide for them a background in drama, and, to prepare them for Thespian Club.

These active students, under the capable leadership of Miss Barbara Begeny, put on some very interesting programs, among which were quiz shows, talent shows, readings, and musical programs.

During the year they drew up a new constitution by which to govern themselves. They also presented a very successful play for one of the May assemblies.

Ninth Grade Jr. Dramatics

Under the able guidance of Miss Schmidt, the ninth grade actors and actresses enjoyed a very successful year as a club.

The primary purpose of this club was to enable the participating students to learn to express themselves by their dramatic ability. Secondly, they were laying the foundation for future membership in Thespian Club.

The varied program for the club members included talent shows, make-up demonstrations, and play recordings.

The high spot of the year for these juniors was the play which they presented at the assembly on February 23.

The charming and very capable Usherettes, a group of K.A.J.H.S. students, appear at all important school functions, such as school plays, band concerts, vespers and commencement exercises. With their sweet personalities and attired in gay formals, they hand out programs, and greet and assist parents and friends to their seats in the auditorium or gym. They add a festive air to all occasions. They are under the expert guidance of Miss Barbara Turner.

Thespian

Kane High's dramatic club, Thespian, presented their annual play, "There Comes a Time", for junior and senior high assemblies in February.

Mr. Robert Smith, their adviser and director, assisted the members in planning and presenting programs, demonstrations, and skits for their meetings.

One highlight of the year was the trip to Alfred University, Alfred, New York, which was made by several members of Thespian and a few faculty members. During the morning and afternoon they saw short plays produced and in the evening they enjoyed "Death of a Salesman", put on by Alfred's dramatic club. This was presented in an area type setting.

Once again the tense juniors and seniors sat in the darkened auditorium awaiting the gentle tap that meant they had been elected to the National Honor Society.

Eighteen new members were elected to the society this year. Ten percent of the senior class and five percent of the junior class were nominated by the ballots of the seven members elected last year and all but the first year faculty. Listed on the ballot were all juniors and seniors in the upper third of their class. Each student was marked by the voter in one of four ways: recommended, not recommended, doubtful, or do not know him.

Besides scholarship, the qualities of leadership, character, and service were considered for each candidate.

To be a member of National Honor is the highest honor any student may have in this school. All members who joined this organization were judged by active members and the faculty. They must strive in every way by word and deed to make its ideals the ideals of their school and life.

In a general aptitude test sponsored by the National Organization, Brooke Branon placed in the upper ten percent of the group taking the test while Marcia Swanson and Ron Homan also placed high in the exam.

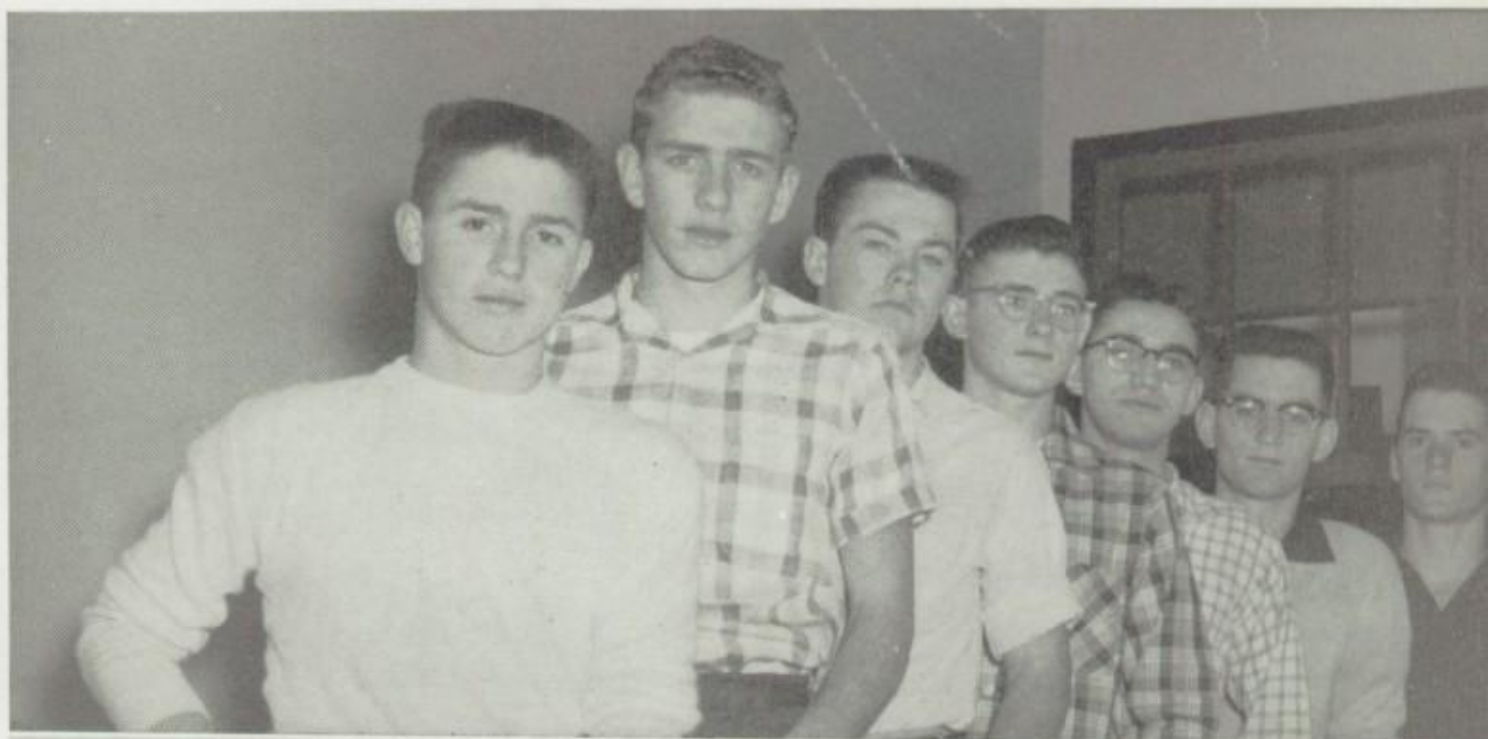

Seventeen thousand dollars in scholarships is offered each year by the National Organization. The top three percent of the members of each society who are interested in going to college are eligible throughout the country.

The activities of the society began with decorating the main entrance hall of the high school for the Christmas holidays. An innovation was added this year, as students were surprised to see the bannisters decorated with evergreens giving the school a festive look.

In February a formal tea was held for the newly elected members and their parents.

Since Ridgway High School wanted to form a National Honor Society, they invited the seven members from Kane who were elected to the society in 1955 to help with the induction ceremonies.

F. T. A.

A very successful organization under the direction of Mrs. Greta Jacobus was the Mabel Studebaker Chapter of F.T.A.

Early in the year F.T.A. had a guest speaker, Dr. Clyde Corle, professor of elementary education at Pennsylvania University. Dr. Corle gave a very interesting speech on teaching as a career. Also, as a guest speaker, Miss Rosana Eckman showed very beautiful slides of her recent trip to Europe.

As a group participation, F.T.A. gave a one-act play entitled "A Date with the Professor." This was a light and humorous play concerning college girls and their problems. Those in the cast were Antoinette Henretta, Carole Peterson, Judith Bentz, Diana Marasco, Donna Dwyer, Justine DeWalt, and Mary Santilli.

Several members of the group visited classes in the local elementary schools to observe teaching methods.

At the beginning of the second semester Mrs. Jacobus resigned. Mr. Gregg Turner assumed position of adviser and capably directed the organization for the remainder of the year.

The Hall Patrol, the group of senior boys who keep order in our halls between class periods, is under the able direction of Mr. Van Ormer. These boys help to keep the students moving (and on the right side of the hall) and turn on and off the lights.

Like a thunder storm's booming, the Kane High School band began rehearsals last September. The opening activity was on the football field as they marched to the strains of "When Those Saints Go Marching In", and "Grandfather's Clock".

They made a brilliant picture in their red and white uniforms, playing at all the home games, at the Johnsonburg game, and the annual Halloween parade.

With the coming of bad weather, concert band began practicing every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday in the auditorium, under the direction of Mr. Charles Stewart. On May 4th they presented their annual spring concert, the highlight of their year. Some of the selections rendered at this concert were: "Begin the Beguine", "American Folk Rhapsody", "The Thunder", "Fort Bragg", and "Lee's Favorite".

Barb Garris, Kate Jones, Marianne Turnquist, Dave Harre, Sandra Leafstrom, and Allen Peterson were chosen to represent Kane High School at the District Band Festival, which was held at Emporium. Dave Harre attended State Band at Meadville.

The crashing of stands and chairs, the long thin wails of the violins, and the deep throated tones of the trombones every Tuesday and Thursday morning let everyone know that orchestra rehearsal had begun.

Under the direction of Mr. Charles Stewart, this group of about forty musicians learned many of the fundamentals of music in addition to playing musical compositions. During the year they practiced such pieces as "The Rosamund Overture," "Prelude," and "Fuge." In addition to these they played a medley of Christmas Carols to keep up with the Christmas spirit.

On February 17, 18, and 19, Mary Thompson, Ruth Carlson, Carol Malmstrom, Marjorie Bush, Cynthia Himes traveled to Williamsport for District Orchestra. In March Carol Malmstrom represented Kane at the State Orchestra Festival in Warren.

During the year orchestra played for the National Honor Society tapping ceremony. They also presented a joint concert with the band on May 4. They played "March Fantastique," "County Garden," and other selections.

Jr. Girls Chorus

The junior high girls' chorus was organized last year and is directed by Mrs. Mabelle Nelson. Since this group was received so well, it was again organized this fall. It was composed of eighth and ninth grade girls interested in singing.

This choral group, which rehearsed every Tuesday morning, sang several carols in the Christmas Assembly.

Some of the numbers they practiced for the Spring Concert were: "Flow Gently Sweet Afton," "I Love a Little Cottage," "Little Lamb, Who Made Thee," and "Sunset."

By participating in this group, these girls were prepared for senior high chorus. Their accompanist was Virginia Hill.

Folk Song

A very popular and outstanding musical group in our school is the Folk Song Group. These talented singers are directed by Mr. William Bender. The purpose of this group is to entertain people with a variety of songs and harmonies which have been popular among the common everyday folks of all countries. Because these singers are rated so highly, they are called upon to entertain different civic organizations. Besides preparing for regular engagements, they work toward an annual tour to neighboring high schools.

Some of the folk tunes sung this year were "Do Lord," "Mary and Martha," and "Waltzing Matilda."

Jr. High Chorus

Everyone likes music and the junior high mixed chorus gives the eighth and ninth graders a chance to express themselves in this field. Consisting of approximately eighty boys and girls the chorus was directed by Mrs. Mabelle Nelson and accompanied by Virginia Hill. This group rehearsed every Monday morning, first period.

For the Christmas Assembly, which featured student talent, the chorus presented three Christmas Carols.

On May 25 the junior high mixed chorus with the other choral groups of Kane High presented their annual Spring Concert. The numbers which this chorus sang were: "America Our Heritage," "Piping Tim," "Look for the Silver Lining," and "Skip to My Lou."

A group of freshmen boys, Monroe Nelson, Bruce Hultman, Allan Hauser, Bob Peterson, and Ron Huckabone, who called themselves the "Freshmen Five" were a newly organized quintet. This group, whose singing was well received by high school students and faculty members was numbered among the members of the mixed chorus. Besides singing at student talent assemblies, the Freshmen Five" sang for programs of such organizations as Child Study Club, and Kane Kiwanis. Some of the songs included in their programs were: "Pick a Bale of Cotton," "Do Lord," "When I Was Single," "The Flea and the Elephant."

This group, with several members of the mixed chorus, Alex Connelly, Lynda Swanson, Eunice Murphy, and Bonnie Johnson, sang "Jacob's Ladder" at the Spring Concert.

Senior High Chorus

Hark! Is that music we hear? Of course! Every Thursday morning the senior high choral group rushed to the auditorium for their weekly rehearsal with Mr. Paul Larson.

All winter the chorus rehearsed such selections as "Look for the Silver Lining," "June Is Busting Out All Over," and "Certainly Lord."

The Senior High Chorus supplied the background music for the very impressive Christmas pageant written by Mr. Larson.

One highlight of the year was District Chorus held in South Williamsport on April 5-9, which was attended by Jean Larson, Sandra Walter, Virginia Hill, Barbara Garris, JoAnn Gonda, Jim Johnson, Kiester Connelly, and Robert Huckabone. The chorus was composed of 215 students from 32 counties in Northcentral Pennsylvania. The director of this large group was Allen W. Flack, assistant professor of music at Bucknell University. Three concerts were given by the chorus, one on Friday afternoon for the students, on Friday evening, and one on Saturday evening. Jim Johnson, tenor, sang a solo at the concert on Friday evening.

Attending County Chorus at Smethport were, Sopranos: Mary Thompson, Gloria Skelly, Julia Eck, Phyllis Knapp. Altos: JoAnn Gonda, Barb Garris, Marla Mehalko, Lynn Larson. Basses: Tony Zampogna, Bob Huckabone, Sam Cummings. Tenors: Dave Miller, Jim Johnson, Shearn Himes.

JoAnn Gonda attended State Chorus at Huntington in May.

At the beginning of the second semester Mr. Larson resigned his post as music teacher. Mr. Loren Wright from Sheffield took his place.

Varsity Football

About a half hundred hopefuls charged onto the Kane gridiron late in August to find big changes in store for them.

The new head coach, Bob Robinson, assistants Bob Siar and Vern Johnson and line coach Matt Rausch made it clear that there was plenty of work in store for them, and immediately began installing the split "T" formation.

Three weeks later they were set to unveil the 1955 model of the Wolves against Ridgway. After a 25-0 shellacking under the lights, the Wolves stopped St. Marys 27-0 in the home opener a week later.

A highly rated Emporium team fresh from a victory took us on and were set back on their heels 13-6. It looked as though the team had begun to roll, but over-confidence and a strong Johnsonburg eleven cooked their goose to the tune of 33-21. Without any hope of taking first place in the Bucktail Conference, the wolf-pack bitterly avenged themselves by trouncing the Port Allegany "Gators" 34-7.

With a season of seven wins and two losses in sight, the Kane team traveled to Brookville to what seemed to be an easy victory. But a fired-up Red Raider team had other ideas and held the Wolves to a 0-0 tie.

The Titusville Rockets came to Kane packed with speed and had the game well in hand, when the determined Wolves came back to make the homecoming game a 14-14 moral victory.

The team reached its peak at Warren, when the greatly underdogged Wolves battled the tough Dragons on even terms for three quarters despite several injuries received by the Kane boys.

Franklin, sparked by a great pilot, took to the air and defeated the Wolves 27-14 at home in their final game.

At the close of the season the lettermen elected Willie Thompson, co-captain. Jim Wood was selected the most valuable lineman. Clem Chatmon and Jim Wood were chosen to be on the first eleven of the Bucktail Conference All-Star team.

Coaches: Mr. Robinson, Mr. Siar, Matt Rausch

The Junior Varsity Football Team, hampered by injuries, was able to play only four games of a six game schedule.

Their season began on September 13th, when they met St. Marys on the Kane grid-iron. This was their only win as they trounced St. Marys 13-6.

The next game at Ridgway was lost 13-0 and the last two games with Johnsonburg and St. Marys also ended in defeat. The fifth and sixth games, which were not played were scheduled with Ridgway and Johnsonburg.

Among the injured were: Willie Smith, Seth Bloomquist, Larry Bernhard, Harold Hallberg, John Cliff, George Walker, and Jim Milford. The Baby Wolves were coached by LaVerne Johnson with Bob Siar as assistant.

Varsity Basketball

Before the final signal was called to halt the plunging of the weary men of the grid-iron, the soft swish of nets heralded the coming of the King of Sports at K.H.S.

The team began its season in a shaky manner by squeezing past Warren, then tumbling Ridgway and Olean in good fashion. However, they found the Dragons a stubborn foe on their home boards when it took two overtime periods to defeat them. Butler proved too much for the Wolves in the Christmas Tournament as they lost for their first defeat.

Entering league play as defending champs, the Wolves rolled up victories over Brookville, DuBois and Bradford, then suddenly hit the skids as Clearfield and Punxy scored impressive wins on their home floors. The Wolves, who had just about been counted out, fought back with sheer determination to tie Punxsutawney for the league leadership. In a playoff game at St. Marys, the wolf pack showed their colors by downing Punxy for their third consecutive District 9 championship.

With interest at a fever pitch the team began its bid for state recognition by defeating Pittsburgh's Oliver High in a fiercely fought contest at DuBois.

In the state quarter finals, held at Westminster College, the Wolves bowed out of the playoff picture by losing to a fine Meadville team in the final minutes.

As a climax to a successful season, a testimonial dinner was given by the fans of Kane to honor the team and Coach Matt Rausch, who had announced his decision to leave Kane to accept another position. This will be a great loss to the school and our community. Good luck, Matt and thanks!

Junior Varsity

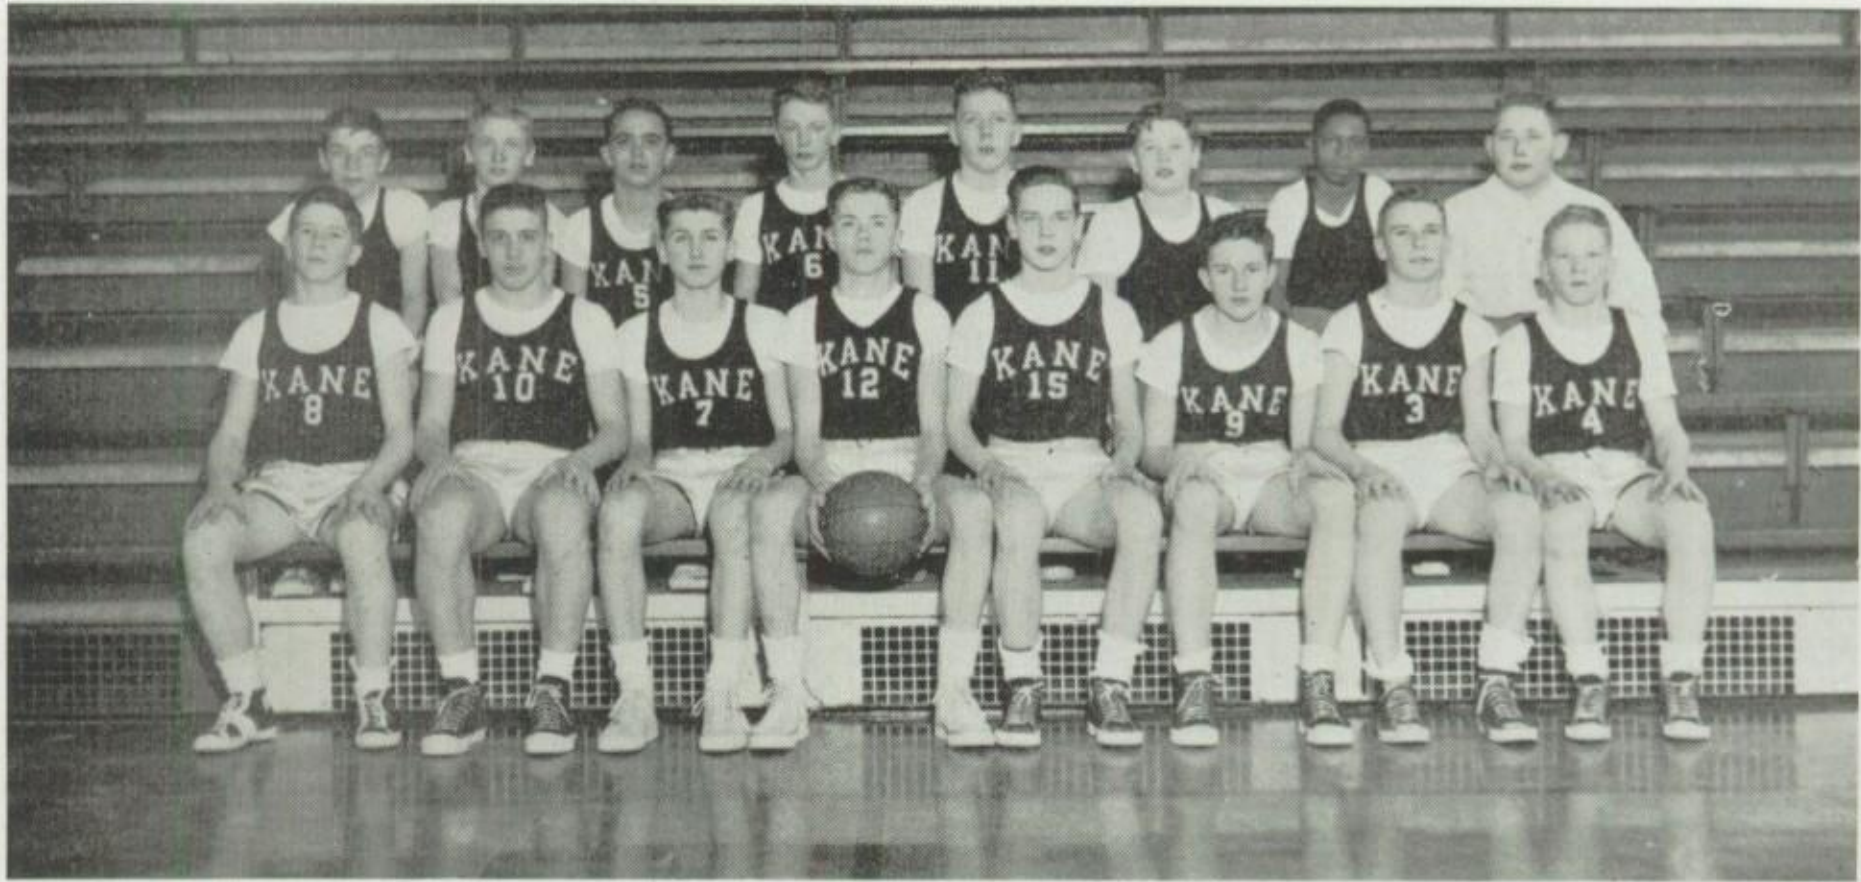

Coach Johnson's Baby Wolves proved themselves a very victorious basketball team this season by coming out on top with sixteen wins out of a twenty game series. Two losses were to Warren both times by two points, one was to Bradford by two points and the other one was to Punxsutawney by one point. The last loss was a great blow to the team, since the winning basket was tossed in just as the buzzer rang. All the losses of the season proved a great disappointment to the boys, because the total margin of all four losses was only seven points.

ROW I: John DeWalt, Allan Hauser, Sam Cummings, Bob Lindquist, Mike Miller, Bill Osmer.

ROW II: Larry Bernhard, Bob Barnaby, Art Johnson, Jim Scott, Fred Farrell, Sonny Bush, Bob Peterson.

ROW I: Jim Kibbie, Roger Imbrogno, Dick Parr, Steve Sponenburgh, Rick Walter, John Gatewood, John Kibbie.
ROW II: Jack Stakely, Dan Reigel, Bud Harris, Ken Simons, Andy Anderson, Dave Blackmore, Winston Neal, Mgr. Dave Weaver.

Jr. High Basketball

Although the Baby Wolves had a slow start due to injuries and the fact that four of the best ninth graders were playing for J.V. teams, they had one of the best seasons in many years. Their schedule is as follows:

	Kane	Opp.
Brookville	22	35
Brookville	37	57
Ridgway	26	46
Johnsonburg	29	16
Bradford	12	34
Sheffield	49	49
Ridgway	27	56
Sheffield	32	28
Bradford	23	31
Sheffield	37	34

One of the hardest fought games was the Bradford game on the home court which the Baby Wolves lost, but by a much smaller margin than expected.

The juniors dropped the opening game at Brookville and also the second game against Brookville on the home court.

They were defeated by the Ridgway five, but finally, after three losses and no wins, the Baby Wolves, sparked by the play of high scorer Dick Parr, defeated the Johnsonburg team.

The team then traveled to Bradford where they played before the Junior High Assembly. The game was lost by the biggest margin of the year, 34-12.

The next game at Sheffield was disputed because the scoreboard did not agree with the score in the scorekeeper's books. The score was registered as 49-49, and the play-off was a 2 in 1 game on the Kane floor. The Kane team won by a score of 32-28 which gave them a double win.

The team lost a hard fought game, then played the Sheffield play-off. They next met Bradford on the home court losing by 31-23.

The Baby Wolves again met Sheffield and paced by Sponeburgh defeated them 37-34.

Although they lost 5, won 4, and tied 1, the team counted it a very successful season because no Kane Junior High team has ever won more than they lost. They acquired much knowledge about basketball and experience which will be valuable in future years.

Tim Walter, Lynn Larson, Janet Branon, Carole Peterson, Tom Jones, Mr. Siar, Toni Henretta, Mr. Montgomery, Mr. Johnson, Joe DeMarte, Mr. Rausch, Mrs. Turner, Mr. Robinson.

Athletic Council

The Athletic Council is a very important though unseen part of athletics. It is composed of members elected by the student body and members of the faculty. Meetings are held every other morning in Room 8.

The council has charge of all affairs connected with athletics, including buying equipment, scheduling games, awarding letters, enforcing training rules, and helping the school to have better and cleaner sports.

In the future it is the hope of the council to be more helpful in all phases of sports.

Cheerleaders

These girls kept up the teams' morale throughout their hard games and led the cheering during the easy ones. Picked by faculty members from all the girls who tried out, they spent many hard hours going over cheers.

Diane Marasco, Gretchen Van Aken, Judy Erickson, Toni Henretta, Fran Colle, and Sally Keneske.

Track

About sixty boys responded to Mr. La-Vern Johnson's call for track early this spring. These boys, who are working hard to defend their District IX crown, which they won from Bradford two years ago, practice every night, regardless of the weather. Assisting Mr. Johnson with the training of Kane High's team is Mr. Robert Siar, assistant coach.

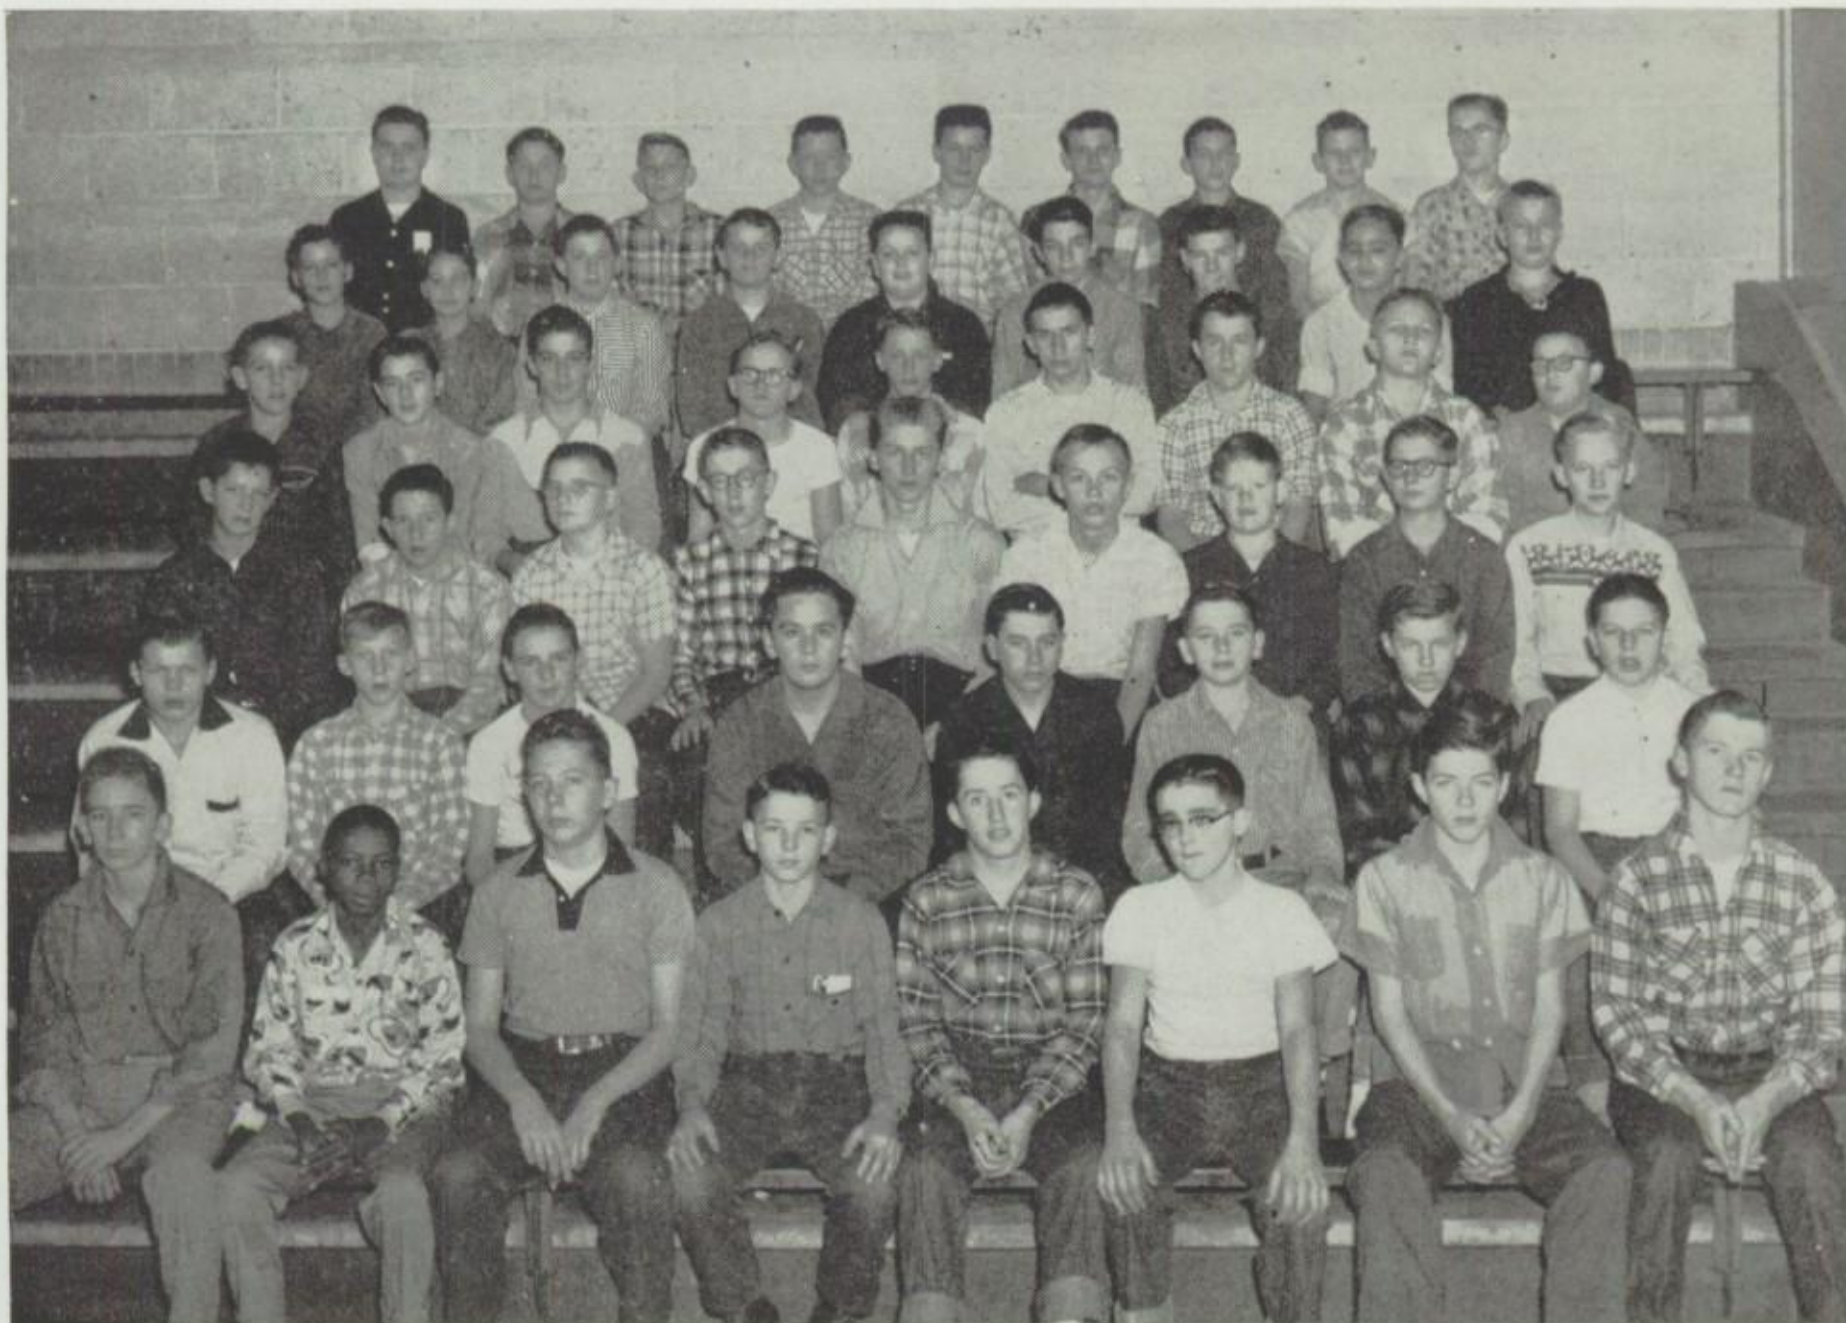

There are nine meets, including the state meet, scheduled for our team this year. For the first time in many years, three home meets are scheduled.

To win a varsity "K" in track, a cinderman must earn a total of ten points in the various track meets. The boys who earn a letter will receive it at the final assembly. There are many boys on the team who ought to do very well this year, and Kane High will probably be very well represented at the state track meet at State College on May 26.

Small Arms

Under the expert guidance of Mr. Bill Miller and Mr. Bill Anderson, the Small Arms Club had a very interesting and successful year.

This year's club was made up of seventy eighth and ninth grade boys who were interested in learning how to handle firearms safely and skillfully.

Fourteen of these boys received medals for their marksmanship. To receive such a medal it is necessary to make a score of at least two hundred and fifty out of a possible four hundred points. This was a rather unusual year in that such a large number of the junior marksmen received these medals.

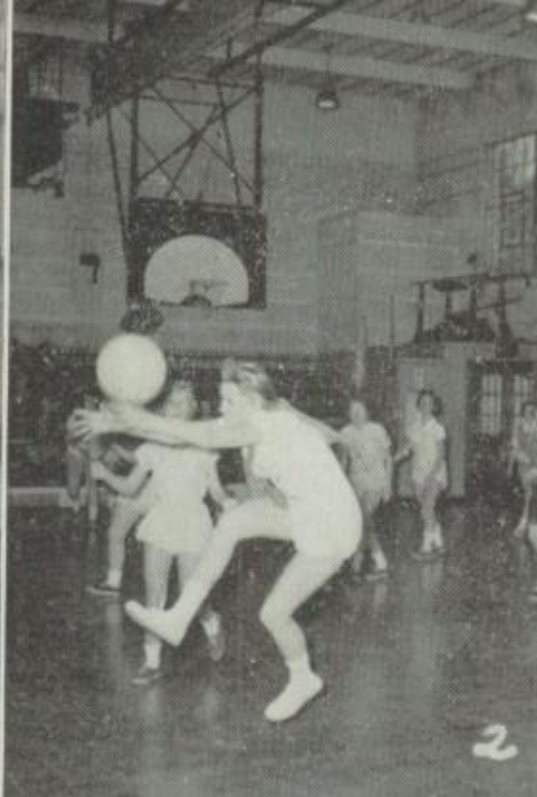

Although shooting for a score was the highlight of the season, much had to be learned about safety in handling guns and shooting techniques before the boys were allowed to fire. The instructors spent much time showing the boys the fundamentals of shooting.

The members of this organization found it took much practice to become expert marksmen. Surprisingly enough, by the end of the year, the majority of the boys were good riflemen. Also they had learned how to safely conduct themselves when using a firearm.

The actual shooting was held on the school range where the boys practiced their basic shooting positions which were sitting, kneeling, standing and prone.

The purpose of Small Arms is to train its members how to handle rifles properly.

Girls' Intramurals

After school on Tuesdays and Thursdays one could see many girls taking part in intramural sports. These games helped to develop teamwork and above all, good sportsmanship.

The first of the scheduled sports was wall soccer, the roughest of all girls' intramural sports. During this sport most of the girls were plagued by bruised legs and were glad to see it end. This year the Bouncy Buttons, captained by Lynn Larson, took top honors in the senior league with seven wins and no losses. The Raiders, captained by Jo Ann DeMarte, took the junior league with five wins and no losses.

Foul shooting was next on the agenda. This sport tests individual skill. Participants shot a total of twenty-five shots and the one who made the best score received twenty-five points with runners up getting fifteen and ten points respectively. In the senior league Prudy Bickel and Shirley Anderson took top honors followed closely by Bea Meckley and Margie Holland. The junior league had Judy A. Johnson, Sandy Smith and Donna Saulsgiver taking the titles in their classes.

Basketball, the most popular sport, began after Christmas. The champions were the Bouncing Babes, captained by Margie Holland in the senior league, with seven wins and no losses.

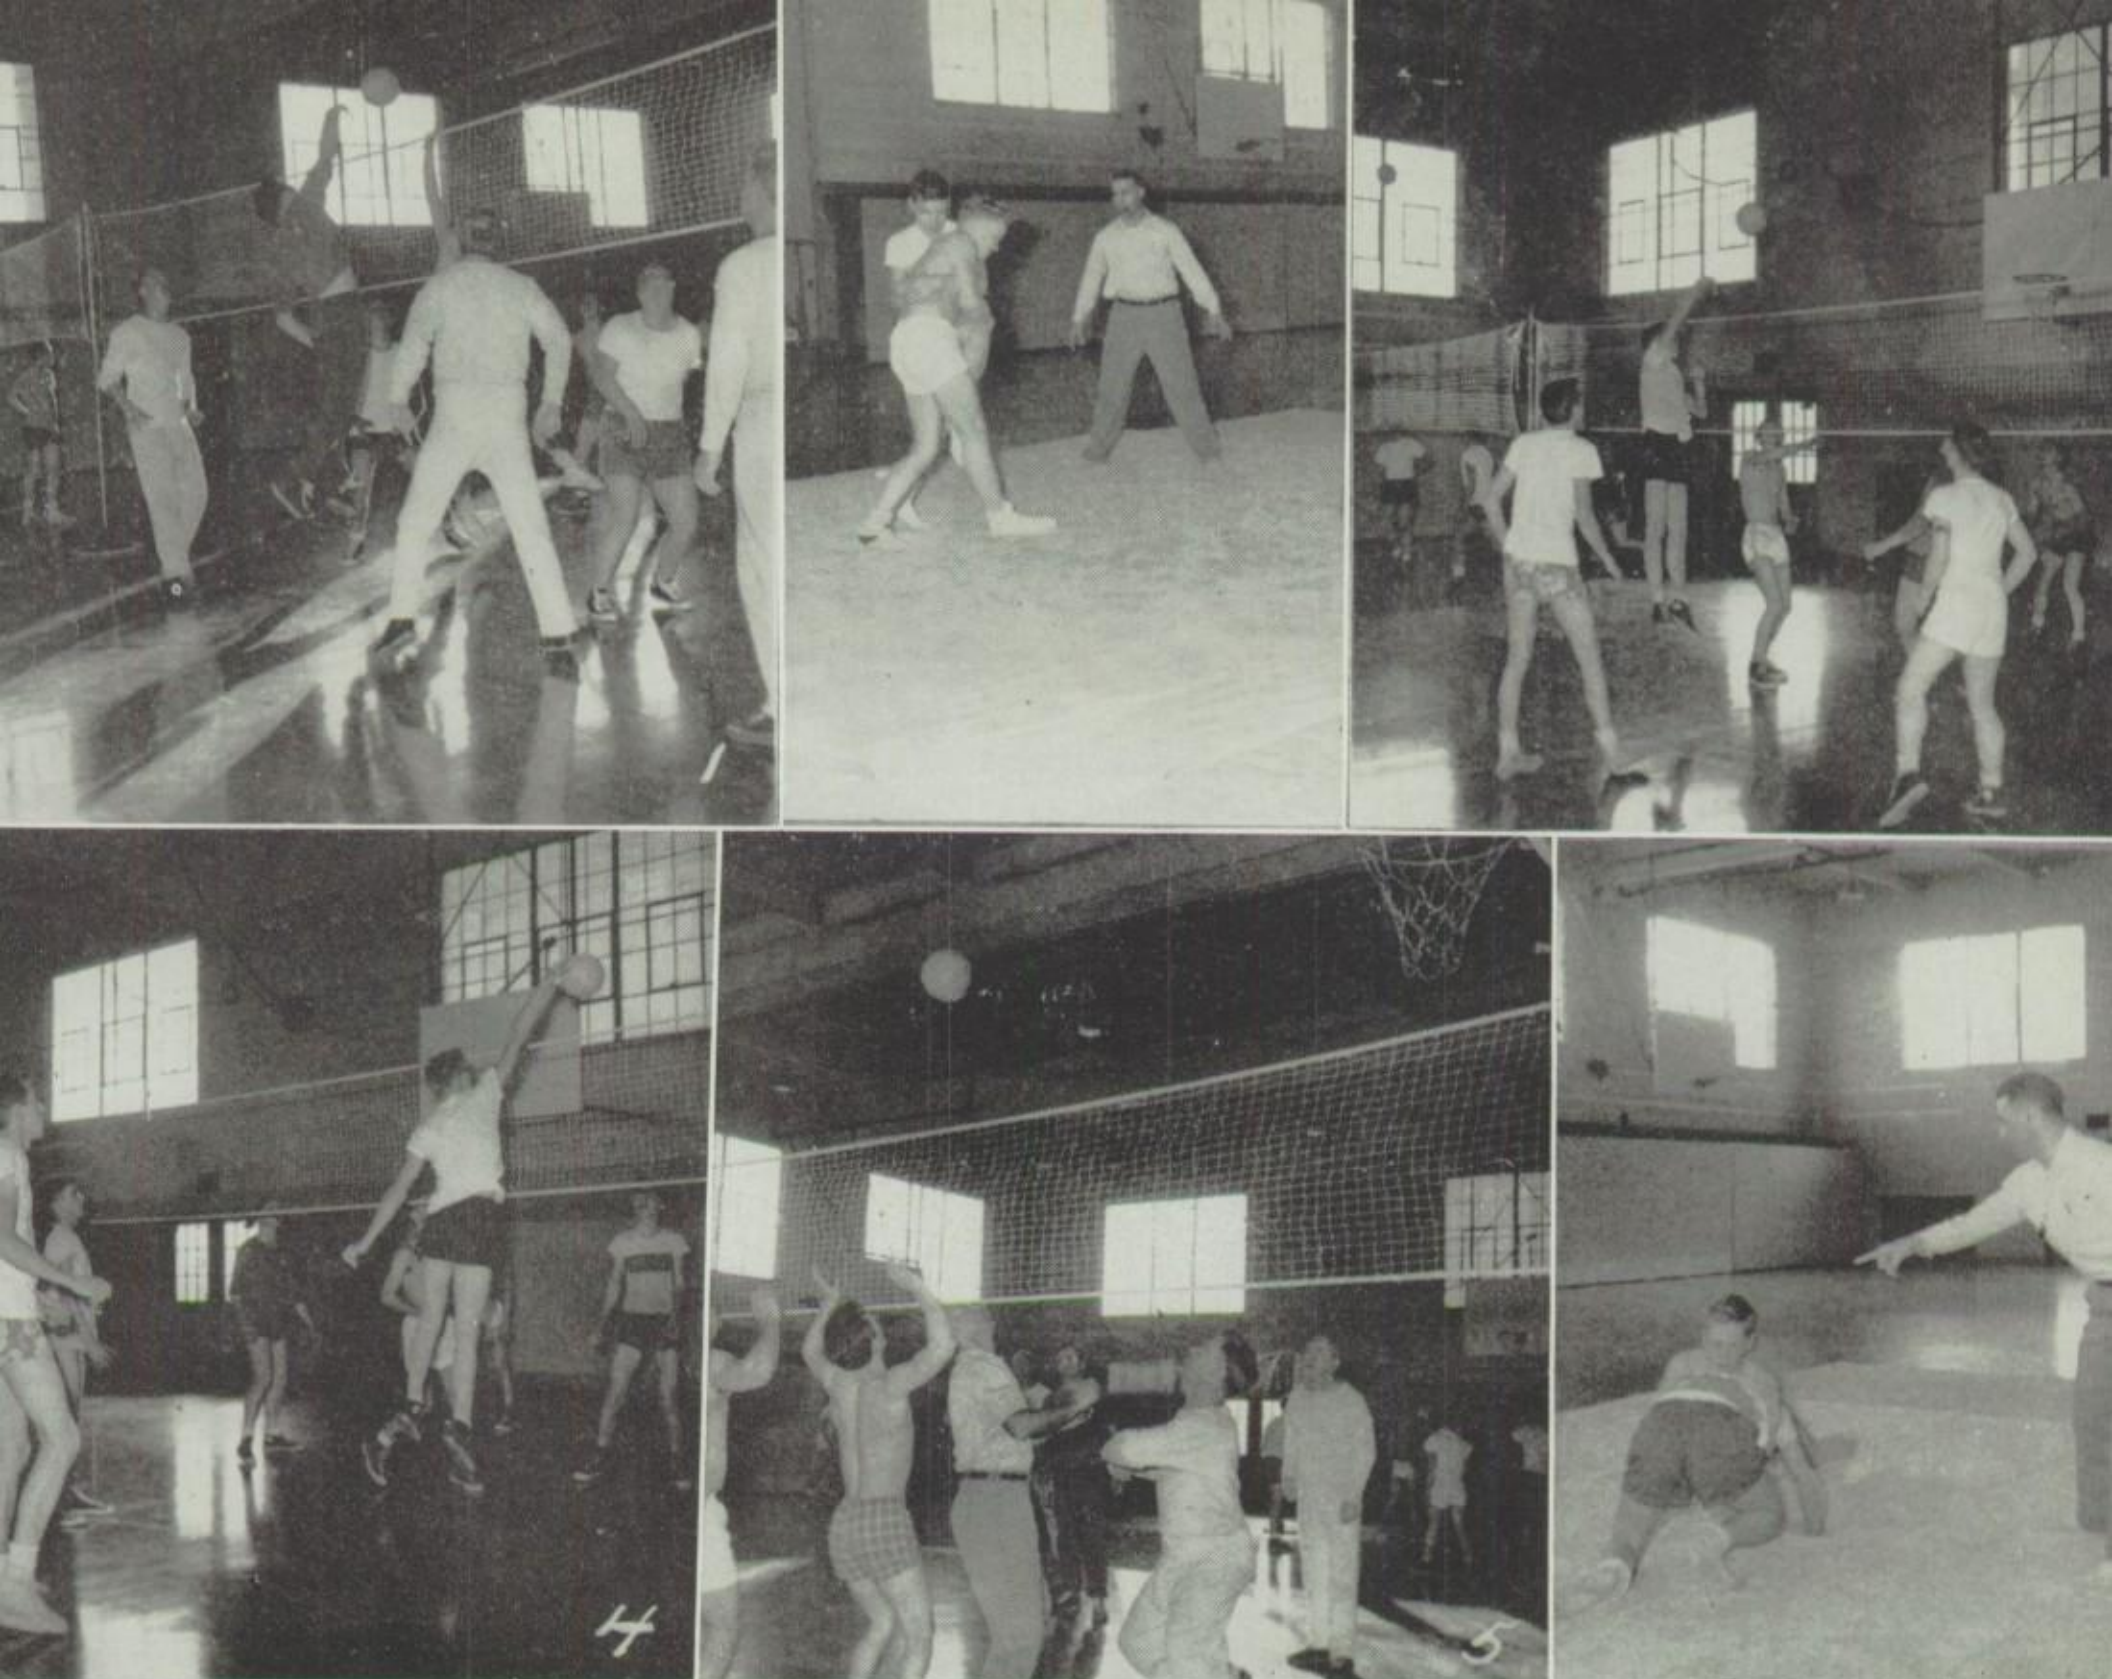

After basketball, volleyball and badminton were played, concluding the intramural program.

At the end of the year points were added and intramural K's awarded to those girls having the highest total. The point system gives ten points for winning, seven for losing, five for substituting and three for refereeing and scorekeeping.

Boys' Intramurals

"Eckers versus Heroes on this field." This call to action could be heard almost every night before football practice. Boys' intramurals started in September with touch football, the first of many activities that kept the boys busy after school. These contests between the boys gave them the chance to see action in the sports they love. Although they may not be as good as the members of the varsity teams, they didn't admit failure because they didn't make teams, but they tried as hard as they possibly could.

In a senior league football playoff game, Jim Eck's team Eckers beat Bud Thayer's Buds, thus winning the league. Georgia Tech, led by Don Schuster, finished with an undefeated record of 5-0 to win the freshman title. Competition was also keen in the eighth grade league as John Kibbie and John Gatewood shared first place with their teams, the Kibbies and the Gators, ending with scores of 4-1.

After football the boys came indoors to participate in foul shooting. Ron Strufalino proved his merits as a basketball player when he sank 18 out of 25 shots from the foul line. This was the best of all the intramural cagers. Junior, Dave Weidow, made 14 out of 25 to win his decision, and sophomore, Dave Banks sank 16 out of 25. Bob Oiver hit on 12 out of 25 to lead the freshmen. Among the eighth graders was John Kibbie who was successful in making 12 out of 25.

After the boys came off the foul lines they were formed into teams by Mr. Gentilman. When the final buzzer sounded, each league was dominated by an undefeated team. Jack Shaw's Hawks ran away with the senior league, finishing with a 6-0 slate. Freshman play was led by Tom Howard's Spartans, as they won five with no defeats. Leading the way in the eighth grade hoop were the Shorts, with John Jones captaining the squad.

Senior Class Prophecy

The class of 1956 held its tenth reunion June 6, 1966, at the beautiful pink and blue igloo mansion of Jean and Kiester Connelly in Nome, Alaska. Arrangements for the banquet were headed by Betty Bradybaugh, Miss America of 1956, and her assistants, Pat Anderson, sports career girl; Margie Kimbrough, mother of the largest family; and Carol Johnson, one of the ten best dressed women, who also acted as hostesses. Dresses of the hostesses in pastel colors and similar in style were designed especially for the occasion by Paris fashion designers, Carole Painter and Judie DePonceau.

Exquisite bouquets and corsages were furnished and arranged through the courtesy of the Mellander-Hulings Greenhouse.

On the program were several guest stars including Jim Johnson, new star on "Coke Time" and Bob Huckabone, guest star on various TV programs. Barb and Jon Walter, the famous comedian team, kept things going while we all sat around on comfortable plush ice blocks exchanging bits of gossip.

It seems that Janice Carlson, giggle champion of the world, recently had another of her famous slumber parties and this time they really raised Ludlow's sunken gardens.

Among the members of the class attending were the noted actress, Antoinette Henretta (who greeted us with a warm "Hi! you all"), Donna Smith, wife of Gary, the greatest basketball player of the newly organized "Shorties"; Carole Peterson, whose smile is now the official "Ipana smile"; and Sandy Orcutt, whose nose was featured in "Look." All of the actresses had starred in the smash-hit of '55, "Seventeenth Summer."

Also representing the sports world were Tommy Thompson and Dick Oyler, players of the only team to beat the Globe Trotters; Tom Jones, Clarence Chatmon and Rich Goodwin, professional football players and tiddly "winkers," managed by Ted Bernhard; and Dixie Hultman and Ron Struffalino, home run champions for the Scabtown Whackers.

Dick Lantz, head of the State Game Commission was telling a thrilling story of a reincarnated fish when Jane Crawford walked in. She had recently moved to Hollywood after discovering that she was a distant relative of movie star Joan.

Jim Snyder, the newly elected Republican governor of Pennsylvania, arrived just in time for a juicy political argument with Democratic Senator, Bill Lynde. The extravagant governor was accompanied by his secretarial staff, Yvonne Whipple and Alice Weaver, the worlds fastest typists; and Blanche McMahon and Clara Kibbie, expert in short hand, who all flew directly from Harrisburg in Art Keverline's private jet. The group was fortunate in having as their devoted stewardess, Frannie Colle.

Shortly after her arrival, Dr. Margaret Cleland was called to the Goal Post Hospital to aid the arrival of Joann and Jim Woods' new little football star.

Corine Gibson's and Delores and Jim Timpano's children all had the chicken pox so their parents were unable to attend.

Speaking of children, Patty Shrubb, "Mother of the Year" couldn't find a baby sitter for all of her little Patties and Juniors and so was forced to bring them along and rely on the staunch patience of Daddy Stan. Patty Neely, a firm believer in "Cheaper by the Dozen," found herself in the same predicament but decided to remain at home.

Mary and Bud Thayer were also among those unable to attend due to Bud's extensive training for the 1966 Olympics.

Right in the middle of the political argument, an atrocious racket was heard on the patio. An investigation revealed none other than Tom Safstrom and Scoop Okerlund laboriously dragging their beloved trampoline. They were possessed with the idea of demonstrating their new act as members of Joe Brinkley's "Greatest Show on Earth."

It was finally time to eat and the blessing was given by Margie Nelson, parish worker. The delicious roast chicken and fresh vegetables were furnished by Emery Johnson, who owns a huge farm in Greenland. Sue Slocum, 4-H adviser, proudly presented samples of her prize-winning canned goods. The dessert, much to the delight of everyone, consisted of Janet Campbell's famed apple dumplings and Pat Beatty's equally famous cherry pie.

Just before we began eating, Dave Miller, the singing history teacher, rounded up the original barber shop quartet and the group rendered a few selections which added to the enjoyment of the dinner. At the end of the twenty-third number, it was noticed that Joe Williams and Denny Galvin were not at the table. In a few minutes they were found in a secluded corner deeply engrossed in tying flies for their tackle shop.

The dinner, served by Mary Youngquist, chief cook; Jeanette Swanson and Shirley Roth, head waitresses; and Mickey Servideo, the sampler, was indeed lovely but some ate so much they started turning green. Never fear though, for Johnny on the Spot, Marla Mehalko, with her trusty little nurses kit, soon had enough pills and medicine stuffed in their mouths to keep them from groaning too long.

Many of those who were able, enjoyed dancing to the strains of Mike Fragale's original composition, "Get Your Claws Offa My Red Velvet Bermudas" played by Bill Weston's own drum and bugle corps.

Some, who didn't choose to dance, sat and exchanged adventures experienced while earning their first million. Ron Burton sold curls at $1 a dozen, while Jim Eck attained his life's dream as a large ranch owner in Texas. Ron Homan made his first million designing the first rocket ship to the moon and Harold Maze made his on his fabulous pin ball casino in Las Vegas. Joe DeMarte, a second Ben Hogan, picked up his million on the golf course, and Betty DeMarte hit the seventh figure selling bermuda skirts to her high school pupils. Bill Truman, the tallest school teacher in Kane High, brought other members of the faculty. Among them were Alan Sundberg, the new psychology teacher and Dorie Jones, who is now a contented little housewife teaching the A B C's to her own little angels.

Straight from New York City came Polly and Don Hilyer, the famous dance team on "John Huntzinger's House Party." On the same plane was Jim Sorenson, star singer on "H.M.S. Pinafore."

Another surprise came when we learned of Harry Adair's new position as master of ceremonies on the "$64,000,000 Question" and Anne Varisano advertising Deep Magic on the same program. Annie offered a year's supply of Deep Magic to the one who wrote the best jingle. Honors went to the well known composer, Mike Fragale. His contribution went like this: "Deep Magic, that's the cream to make your skin feel like a dream."

Jim Balon was voted fireman of the year for putting out a grass fire near an atomic energy factory in Texas. This brought him the recognition he needed to gain partnership with Bill Paulson, a big oil tycoon in the same state.

Bev Koza and Barb Simons, who are now residing in Johnsonburg, ran over some puncture weed as they were crossing the desert, and got a flat tire. The delay caused them to be a little late, but due to the quick telephone service of Grace Skelly, chief operator for the Bell Telephone and her loyal assistant, Joan Groves, a serviceman was reached and the flat promptly repaired.

Many of the alumni are engaged in interesting avocations. John Carlson's deer hide tanning was among the most interesting to the women, especially when he said he also owned a mink farm and tanned mink hide too. Of course Shearn Hime's picture collection of all his ex-wives brought considerable comment from the men. Jeaneane Haight owns a large dog kennel and trains dogs for shows as a hobby. She brought along six of her prize pekingese so between kids and dogs we all had a howling good time.

Bea Meckley, former gym teacher, had just returned from Europe and told of her many travels abroad, while Nancy Peterson, Shirley Gallagher and Nancy Ramondo told of their adventures in the service and being sent to South America on a good will tour to make friends with the head hunters.

Carolyn Champlin, a beautician combines her work with her hobby as she invents new hair styles. She demonstrated several of her latest creations on Mary Lou Smith, who is now a bathing beauty in Miami Beach, Florida.

From Washington, D.C. came Helene Brooks, Bev Cesario and Janet Durnell secretaries to the Secretaries of the Interior, State and Internal Affairs. The three were accompanied by Carole Weidow, Adeline Ferranto and Sandra Nichols, accountants for the Federal Bureau of Investigation. It was these six who just for years before had started the ISC, the International Sewing Club. With them came Joan Scutella, the President's private nurse.

The class members traveling the greatest distance were given miniature gold globes. These honors went to Sally Keneske, missionary to Kenya Colony, Africa; Paul Anderson, United State ambassador to Sweden and his private secretary, Virginia Olver. The latter two arrived with dampened spirits. Their planes had gone down a half mile off the coast and they had been forced to swim a ways.

Roy Smrekar arrived with a long face. How he had wanted one of those trophies, but he had gotten back from Africa two weeks ago. He came bedecked in a tiger skin, which he had killed in the heart of darkest Africa.

At 10:30 Jean turned on one of their color television sets and everyone watched "A Date With Judy" over channel 60, Nome, Alaska, starring Judy Zampogna.

As a grand finale, Cynthia Stimmel went through a series of humorous antics which had us all in stitches, and Jim Johnson sang "A Perfect Day" which made us more reluctant than ever to leave.

After pictures had been taken by news photographer, Ron Nordstrom and Brookie Branon, editor of the New York Times, had her report pretty well completed, good-byes were said and tears were shed until another time.
